Company Profile

Founded in 1956. In 1965 incorporated under the name of Amaike textile industry Co., Ltd. In response to high demand, we have been developing and providing high quality products for various markets. Since in 2005 produced the lightest and thinnest fabric in the world under the name of Amaike Super Organza. First featured at the Paris Collection in 2006, exported to major international brands.

Products/ Concept

The concept is based on "air, water and light" gentle as air, moist like drizzle glistening like sunlight on the surface of water.

Our scarves and pocket chiefs are made of a very fine 7 denier (27 microns) polyester organza thread, about one fifth or sixth the thickness of hair and the fabric weighting just 10 grams per square meter as if they are weight-less.

Production processes include weaving, dyeing, pleating and sewing.

Products/ Concept: Our originality is “freedom” and “gorgeous”. You can find a sense of humor in our jewelry like bags and small handcrafts. We commit to texture, balance and one and the only characteristic of the leather.

Company Profile: There's a reason for a small excitement. Exploring your personality, what and how you want to carry with. That is the beginning of BAGERA's handcraft. BAGERA connects the world between you and what and how you carry with. By thorough tailoring and carefully examined materials, the created handcraft wears an instant charm. We hope the handcraft becomes precious after spending a long time together, as a whole procedure of building a house. Feeling up when you touch it. Makes you grin. To create such slight momentum, we saw the leather. There is no fixed meaning to this name. BAGERA, the sounds, the rhythm will come out from you unconsciously. We hope to keep in touch with you with a comfortable distance.

Company Profile

keicofujita was founded in 2011 to create a line of fashion accessories from industrial materials. Its collections have been presented at galleries and department stores all over Japan. After participating in the Parisien trade show, Maison&Objet in 2017 the brand started to deal with overseas clients (boutiques, galleries and museum shops) mostly in Europe and in the States.

Products/ Concept

The industrial materials were for completely different purposes for which we found and created new and innovative applications such as jewelry.
 One of our collections, dodo series exemplifies our design ingenuity and originality...Simple tag pins are redesigned as high end contemporary jewelry.
 We like to refer to our creations as up cycling.
 Our products are mainly distributed through galleries and department stores throughout Japan. We target a high-end market with an eye for elegance.
 In order to put an accent of elegance on the basic dodo collection, we developed another line using gold and platinum leaf, which is one of the important industries in Kanazawa.
 Our jewelry made of industrial materials is very light and that makes the shipping cost to overseas clients inexpensive.

Company Profile

It is great pleasure to introduce our accessory brand KISSO. Our accessories are made of "cellulose acetate," which is derived from natural material that uses cotton as its main ingredient. This base material of beautiful design is all imported from Italy. Our craftsmen spend enormous amount of time to meticulously shape them into accessories adored by many in Japan.

We take great pride in our accessories because:

They are comfortable to wear; gentle to your skin and light even when worn for long.

Their colors are rich.

They are ecologically sustainable because they are derived from cotton.

Since they are not mass-produced, each piece is one-of-a-kind.

Their pricing is reasonable; they typically sell in retailers in Japan from $50.

Products/ Concept

Accessory brand "KISSO" where "one in the world" can be found.

A colorful and exciting accessories.

Company Profile

KEIKO KUROISHI is the original textile brand established by the designer, Keiko Kuroishi, in 1995. With the exuberant selection of scarves with artistic colors as her core expression, she has been exhibiting her elegant and piquant collections in PREMIERE CLASSE, an international fashion accessory trade show in Paris, as well as in Tokyo. Her works have also been exhibited at the internationally acclaimed interior and lifestyle designs trade show, MAISON&OBJET, held in January 2014.

While the designer, Keiko Kuroishi, was working for the product planning in the apparel industry, she became strongly interested in fabric colors and patterns, which brought her to France in 1992. After completing her studies in textile designs in Paris, she made her debut as a designer in the British scarf collection in 1995. Since this first public appearance, she has been introducing her stylish designs, including her one-of-a-kind, original prints, which make the best out of the texture of material in line with the theme for every season. In particular, her works have been highly acclaimed through the masterful utilization of the pride precision techniques from Japan. Through the detailed cut works and delicate color gradation through dyeing, she has created an original outlook with high quality designs. Her masterpiece, "TANABATA", which is crafted from a single fabric applying the intricate net design inspired from the origami ornament for the traditional star festival, Tanabata, is a long selling piece at many world renowned museums and shops, such as the Museum of Modern Arts in New York (MOMA).
