Selling point

After sweet potatoes produced in Southern Kyushu are manually-sorted one by one, the low temperature distillation of the raw materials gives us the product with carefully-selected original gorgeous fragrance and flavor. The shochu product provides you with the one-and-only refreshment and delicious taste. Blending undiluted shochu filtered at the freezing point provides the liquor so that you can enjoy it more easily and feel more refreshed. Won the gold medal at New York interanational spirits challenge in 2018.
