

Green Carbon, Inc.

Hanzomon PREX North 9F, 2-3-2 Kojimachi, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo

Basic Information

Industry	Carbon Credit Generation and Sales Business, ESG Consulting Business
Company Profile	Green Carbon Inc. is an environmental company committed to “Saving the Earth with the Power of Life.” We focus on leveraging the potential of nature—particularly agriculture and forestry—to address global environmental challenges. By creating and supplying nature-based carbon credits, we contribute to decarbonization and ecosystem restoration. Our operations extend across Japan, Southeast Asia, and Australia, where we collaborate with local communities to promote sustainable practices. With a diverse and mission-driven team, we aim to build a future where people and nature coexist and thrive together through practical, science-backed solutions.
Major Country and Regions of Interest	Vietnam, India, Cambodia, Malaysia, Indonesia, Philippines, etc.
Business Activities	We develop, certify, and sell nature-based carbon credits through agricultural and ecological projects. Key initiatives include methane reduction in rice paddies via Alternate Wetting and Drying (AWD), biochar production, forest conservation, and mangrove restoration. We hold Japan’s first and largest J-Credit certification for rice paddy methane reduction. In addition, we offer “Agreen,” a digital platform that supports carbon credit creation and management, and provide ESG consulting services. Through these efforts, we support carbon neutrality, improve agricultural productivity, and contribute to building a more sustainable economy and society.
Company PR	At Green Carbon Inc., our mission is to save the Earth with the power of life—leveraging nature’s forces like plants, soil, and microbes to develop decarbonization solutions. Talented professionals from diverse international backgrounds are already thriving with us, and we are actively expanding our global presence. This means you’ll find real career opportunities both in Japan and overseas. If you are passionate about sustainability, science, and driving meaningful change in a fast-moving environment, we invite you to co-create a better future with us. Join Green Carbon, and let’s harness the power of life to heal the planet—together.
