

Regional Information: Industrial Cluster Information Others

② Kyoto

<Shipping companies, Importers/Exporters, Manufacturers, Freight companies> The Port of Kyoto Maizuru is a major international distribution hub linking the Sea of Japan coast directly with the rest of Northeast Asia.

① Toyama

<Nonferrous Metal and Metal Products etc.> Toyama is home to a number of technologically advanced manufacturers.

③ Nara

<Accommodations > Hotel supply falls short of demand, and this provides a good opportunity for new hotels to enter the prefecture

Shiga

<The field where future growth is expected such as environment, medical care, industrial robot, advanced electronic parts and material>
A major industrial complex of the manufacturers of solar cell and lithium-ion batteries

Niigata city

<Niigata Port aiming to become a hub port along the Sea of Japan>
• Promoting use of Niigata Port as an international hub port
• Accumulating industries to the areas around the port

Hyogo

<advanced technologies-related (aerospace)> Healthcare and pharmaceutical-related companies and R&D centers are located at Kobe Medical Industrial City, there are also many new energy-related projects.

Ibaraki

Ibaraki Prefecture is located close to Tokyo, and with its progress in wide area mass transportation network, the prefecture is an ideal place for the aggregation of various industries.

Chiba

There is a concentration of supply bases for the National Capital Region, especially Narita International Airport, and logistics-related companies.

Toyota city

Toyota city defines the next generation automobiles as the key industry and provides a preferential system with doubled amount of incentives.

Tokyo

About 630,000 businesses, more than 1/10 the total number in Japan, and over 75% of foreign company headquarters are located in Tokyo.

Fukuoka city

<Video games, fashion, design, and video> A creative industry is thriving with video/fashion as well as video-game-related industry.

<Physical distribution industry> Proximity to East Asia and demand for physical distribution of Kyushu producing shipment value of 21.5 trillion yen and international trade of 4 trillion yen.

Saijo city

Developing the "City of Agricultural Innovation for Saijo" project and working on creating new industries that can utilize the city's resources through public and private cooperation

It is easy to ensure the industrial water in the city, and the logistics network is well developed. There are highly-skilled enterprises near the city.

Shizuoka city

Food, pharmaceutical and chemical companies have agglomerated. Research in the food science business is booming.
"Shizuoka City, right in the middle of logistics" is suggested as the strategic base in the new era of logistics.

