Sunflower Lecithin

Lecithin is a natural emulsifier with antioxidant, mold-releasing, water-holding and dispersion properties. Lecithin also assists the normal physiological functions of the body to improve lipid metabolism, ameliorate arteriosclerosis and enhance neural function. With such boundless potential, lecithin finds wide-ranging use not only in daily foods but also in health foods, cosmetics, pharmaceuticals, animal feed and in materials for industry. Lecithin is made from soy and supplied in paste form, but we supply soy-free, non-GMO, high purity powdered sunflower lecithin refined from paste lecithin. As a pioneer in lecithin development, we manufacture high-quality lecithin products that undergo a diverse range of processing, including granulation, fractionation, enzyme decomposition and hydrogenation.

Flavor Oil

Just a Dash to Finish the Dish! Flavor Oil got its name from creating the flavor and aroma of ingredients in oil form. Topping off your dish with just a quick dash of Flavor Oil will permeate your food with the rich fragrance of luxurious ingredients. Our special refining technology enables our Flavor Oils to seal in wonderfully fresh and rich flavor and aroma. Our product lineup includes Basil, Mushroom, Chili & Garlic, Porcini, Mushroom, Ginger, Wasabi (Japanese horseradish), Yuzu (Japanese citrus), Green tea and Hojicha (Roasted green tea). Green tea and Hojicha are our hot new products that are great topping oils for dessert that let you feel the enchantment of Japan.

Umami Yuzu Pepper

Yuzu is a tart Japanese citrus featuring bold and zesty Umami. These three words, tart, bold and Umami, are perfect descriptions that are also key to Japanese dishes. Yuzu Pepper is great for sushi toppings, udon and soba noodles, and as a zesty Umami buzz for your steaks.

Amazake

For more than 1,000 years, a sweet thick beverage known as "amazake" has been produced in Japan. Recently, it has made a strong comeback because it is naturally nutritious. "Amazake" literally means "sweet sake," but it is either low in alcohol or alcohol free. "Amazake" is a sweet, slightly fermented rice drink that can be mixed with Japanese tea and cream.

Fuji Matcha

We grow tea leaves for our Fuji-Matcha at the foot area of Mt. Fuji using only organic fertilizers. Our Tenryu Agri Farm is located on the upper Tenryu River, which is 600m above sea level. Once the leaves have been harvested, they are then steamed and dried in a brick furnace.

Premium Gyokuro Powder

Only 0.8% of tea in Japan becomes Gyokuro. Of this, our pesticide-free Gyokuro is rich in Umami, sweet and flavorful because of shading for over 20 days before harvesting.

Natto with Sticky Barley

Natto is fermented soybeans with unique flavor and stickiness. It is rich in protein and highly nutritious with Vitamin B2, B6, K2 and dietary fiber. By adding sticky barley, we successfully enhanced its dietary fiber and lowered Natto's unique flavor and calories. This product comes with soy-sauce-based sauce that contains no sodium glutamate or nucleotide flavor.

Chopped-Soy Natto (Extra Small)

This Natto is made from soybeans that are finely chopped and screened by size.
This enables people to eat Natto with less chewing. Natto is often used as a weaning food in Japan because it is rich in nutrition, not only vitamins and minerals but also iron and dietary fiber which help one avoid anemia and constipation. Also, Vitamin K2 in Natto helps elderly people to keep their bones healthy.
